

Meet the Author!

Sean Easley, author of the The Hotel Between book series, will be visiting Deerpark on Sept. 26. He will talk with students about his path to becoming an author and share what his writing process looks like, the importance of revisions in both work and life, and where ideas come from. We are looking forward to this special author visit at our school!

Sean Easley started writing in third grade because he was looking for adventure. He's worked with kids and teens for well over a decade, listening to their stories, and somehow ended up with a Masters degree in education along the way. Now he's a full-time author living with his wife and son in Texas, where he stubbornly refuses to wear cowboy boots. He writes books about kids who impact the world and the families that hold them together. Visit him at seaneasley.com.

The Hotel Between is about a boy who travels the world through the doors of a magic hotel in search of the dad he never knew.
